

How much does a large-capacity distribution box cost

AI Overview

A large distribution box typically costs between $300 and $2,000 or more, depending on size, materials, internal components, and installation requirements.

Price Range and Factors

The cost of a large distribution box varies widely based on several factors:

- Material and Construction: Plastic enclosures are cheaper, starting around $20–$50, while metal (steel or aluminum) boxes for industrial use can range from $300 to $1,500 or more. Concrete boxes, often used in septic or heavy-duty applications, can cost $100–$400 or higher .
- Capacity and Circuits: Larger boxes with more circuits or higher amperage ratings are more expensive. For example, a small 4-circuit panel may cost $15, whereas a 40-circuit industrial panel can exceed $300 .
- Internal Components: Boxes sold empty are cheaper, but adding high-quality breakers, surge protectors, and busbars increases the price significantly .
- Smart Features: Modern distribution boxes with remote monitoring, digital displays, and load management can cost double a traditional panel but offer long-term savings through energy optimization .
- Environmental Rating: Weatherproof or outdoor-rated boxes carry a premium due to additional sealing and corrosion-resistant materials .
