

Price of repairing a tripped circuit breaker in a distribution box

AI Overview

Repairing a tripped circuit breaker typically costs between $150 and $400, depending on the complexity and type of breaker.

Typical Costs

- Simple breaker replacement: $150-$275 is common for a single circuit breaker replacement, including labor and parts, with most homeowners paying around $275 for a straightforward fix .
- Labor charges: Electricians usually charge $40-$90 per hour depending on your location and the complexity of the work .
- Panel or wiring issues: If the breaker panel requires additional work, such as rewiring or replacing multiple breakers, costs can rise to $292-$368 on average, with some projects reaching $548-$661 for more extensive repairs .

Factors Affecting Cost

- Type of breaker: Standard breakers are less expensive, while AFCI or GFCI breakers can cost around $50 per unit .
- Cause of the trip: Overloaded circuits, short circuits, faulty breakers, or loose wiring can influence repair complexity and cost .
- Panel age and condition: Older panels may require upgrades or additional wiring, increasing labor and material costs .
