AI Overview

Notable Chilean manufacturers of optical fiber cables include CABLEX, COMTEC, Fiberlines, Mundo, and Teldor.

Key Manufacturers

CABLEX is a Chilean company specializing in telecommunications products and services, including fiber optic cables. With over 20 years of experience and ISO 9000 certification, CABLEX provides high-quality solutions for both interior and exterior applications, serving a wide range of industrial and commercial clients. COMTEC focuses on fiber optics and telecommunications engineering services. They offer advanced solutions such as Smart OTDR 2.0 and Viavi 136FB for fiber testing and analysis, supporting network optimization and maintenance. Fiberlines provides dedicated internet and data transport services, emphasizing ultra-broadband fiber networks across Chile. They cater to both small and medium-sized enterprises as well as large companies, ensuring high-speed connectivity. Mundo is a telecommunications company offering fiber optic connectivity with a focus on high-quality, fast internet services. They provide a variety of fiber optic products suitable for home, mobile, and business applications. Teldor is an internationally recognized manufacturer with operations in Chile, supplying specialized cables for telecommunications, marine, and industrial sectors. Their fiber optic cables are designed for extreme conditions and comply with industry standards, including armored and dry fiber optic cables for outdoor installations.
